

AMERICAN SAVES SUSPENDED HER OF THE WORLD WAR

CHUCKLE BIG BUCKET

By CHARLES O. POWER

Though the efforts of the Boston American, Herman F. Chalkoff, has been returned to a government hospital for further medical care and treatment.

On the face of this it is commonplace to the heart of it there is a thrilling story of courage and valor and disappointment, the story of a boy who battled for the cause of humanity, who came out of the fight with a battered body and a sick mind and who, so far as a consistent material speculation is concerned, is a man without a country.

He fought in the clouds with Lafayette, Thaw, our own Norman Prince and other brave boys from this country whose exploits made the Lafayette leading the boys of Germany and the pride of the Allies and America.

Time and time again he wandered through the clouds, accounting, but there came a time when he was shot down and, since then, his mind has been taking flight, the doctors say, as spectacular in fancy as were his in reality in the days of war.

For the missing Chalkoff has been a patient at the Public Health Service Hospital at West Haverhill, Mass., for days ago he was told to report to the office of the director of the Washington disinfecting hospital care. He left the place in a daze and was wandering aimlessly about. He thought he was in a rooming house in the South.

He had given up all hope when the Boston American came to his rescue. By rare good luck it happened that the staff of the director of the War Department and a cabinet associated with the bureau were in conference with Dr. Arthur F. Collins, the district superintendent. Through the open door he saw the reporter and called him with an invitation to sit.

THE HISTORY OF CHALKOFF.

After the meeting the reporter asked them to listen to a good story and told them briefly about Chalkoff. Chalkoff, it was explained, was an official, had been kept at the West Haverhill hospital for some time, and the arrangement between this country and the allies to secure his proper medical attention.

AQUATIC STUNTS CARNIVAL

Bevy of Beauties to Take Part in Big Event During August

Fill in Blanks, Girls, and Join in Big Swimming Race

Entry for Boston American Water Carnival

High diving from a spring board by pretty girls, water sports in which a bevy of beauties will figure, and a thrilling race of nine and one-half miles up and down stream will be featured at the annual carnival to be conducted by the Boston American in the Charles River Basin, West End, Saturday afternoon, August 27.

The diving and aquatic stunts will be featured by the girls of the American Red Cross, who are to give a four-championship honors, to be participated in by a number of their own, twenty-five or more stately girl swimmers from the city and about town.

Among the high divers who are expected to participate the vast throng during and after the race is Alice Eldridge, whose reputation as a water sports and swimmer extends from coast to coast. She will turn a triple somersault in the air from the springboard before landing head foremost in the water.

FREE TO PUBLIC.

The carnival will be completely free to the public, and it is hoped that people outside Boston will take advantage of the opportunity to see the great events ever held in this section of the country.

God Will Send Him Back, Says Wife of 'Healer,' Gone Since June 25

Mrs. Francis Schlatter Scouts Theory That Husband, Who Walked Out of Cottage and Never Returned, Has Deserted Her

The good God who watches over his people will send my dear husband back to my arms. I feel sure that my husband loves me with all his great heart and soul and that God, my father, will not let me suffer in vain.

These two sentences sum up the faith of Mrs. Francis Schlatter, wife of the "divine healer," who walked out of his cottage at Annapolis June 25 to get shaved at Gloucester and has not been directly heard from since.

Letters and telegrams to friends and relatives, however, indicate that Schlatter, who took $100 in traveler's checks with him, went to Montreal and expected to sail for Europe on July 12. His name, however, was not on the passenger list of any vessel leaving the Canadian city near any of the major American ports during the month.

DESERIPTION THEORY.

"The police are trying to connect me that my husband has deserted me," cried Mrs. Schlatter, a Southern woman with a trace of a smile and a deep accent.

"That's pure nonsense. He loves me," she said, looking at the sky. "I believe that he is suffering from an attack of amnesia, and that when his brain recovers from the effects of the long strain of overwork he will return by any of his own accord, God will send him back."

WORKED WIFE'S SISTER.

"He came to this country and was working as a shoe maker in Denver when our father appeared to him in a great hall of fire and told him to get to the work of healing for which he was great."

APPEAL TAKEN SINCE SUSPECTED IN PHILLIPS AS RUM RUNNER IDENTITY CASE GETS AWAY

Claimant to Swampscott Estate Seeks in Overthrow Decree Denouncing Petition

The famous Phillips identity case, which began in Salem in 1916, and in which John C. The Changing Newspaper Situation in Chicago

During the first six months of this year the Chicago Herald and Examiner was the only daily newspaper in Chicago to show a gain in food product advertising as compared with the corresponding period of last year. During this period the Herald and Examiner carried 235,523 lines of food product advertising. The comparative figures for all papers show:

Herald and Examiner ..	18% gain
Tribune . .	30% loss
American .	12% loss
News	25% loss
Post	56% loss
Journal ..	61% loss

To show a decided increase in food advertising while all other newspapers show a loss, indicates the responsiveness of Herald and Examiner readers. For advertising of this character must find an immediate response from Chicago's thousands of prosperous homes.

What Can Be Done Through Herald and Examiner Advertising

Recently the Herald and Examiner secured 79% distribution for a food product selling at one-third higher than its competitors, with a volume of sales more than enough to pay for all selling and advertising costs before a line of advertising appeared.

Today, less than two months since the publication of the first advertisement, sales exceed $55,000, and the product is on sale in over 5,200 of Chicago's 7,000 grocery and delicatessen stores.

A RISE IN FLANNEL!
William T. Tilden, world tennis champion, making remarkable jump at Providence matches. He lost to Vincent Richards, boy star. (C.)

PLEASE, MR. CHEF! And would you believe it, folks, the ladies aren't pleading for his favorite recipe. All they want is his signature. Imagine that! He is none other than Chester of London, immortalized in Sir William Orpen's painting. (W. W.)

MLLE. JEANNE MAZELPEAUX, who graduated from College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minn., in two years, has returned to France as "superior institute official." (H.)

DON'T CROWD, EVERYBODY! It's all settled! Cecelia Flowerston, she of stage fame, is NOT going to wed Lieut. Kisor, the Arctic balloonist. At least she hasn't changed her mind for the past 30 minutes. No, it's a coast naval man. Cecelia really hates publicity. (U. & L.)

THE CHARM OF FRUIT! Bacchus himself might have designed this exquisite little chapeau, direct from Paris, fashioned of black satin, daintily trimmed with luscious bunches of black and gray grapes. Observe the chic, saucy little tilt of the affair. (U. & U.)

LINDLEY LENTON, classical dancer, believes in keeping cool these days. Trying a few steps in the snow on roof of Rocky Mountain Hotel. (U. & U.)

GOOD START! Jussite Olivette was the first girl kissed by a titled Englishman, who bet he'd kiss 1,000 maidens in New York to California hike. Her father, Merion Olivette, left, wagered $5,000 on the outcome. Whereupon the bettor kissed his daughter. (K.)

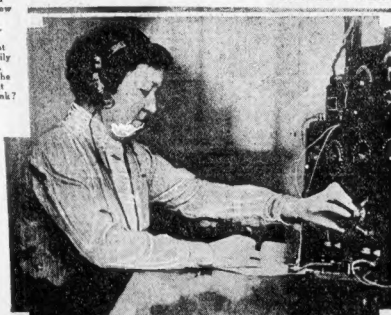

INVENTIVE! Miss Rene Little of Boston has devised something new in knee supporters. The old bicyclist's bent slips, prettily decorated, are idea, she says. What do you think? (Int.)

FOR A RAINY DAY! Many devices have been invented for indoor golf, but this simple affair provides all the advantages of the "real thing" without "fooling" or losing balls. A regulation ball is attached to the captive ball device and is swung at just the same as if you were on your favorite course. It leaves the club with great speed and by winding around the mechanism of the device indicates whether you have properly hit the ball. If the ball winds around it in a jerky and uneven fashion your shot would have been the same. Each revolution equals 10 yards distance. (U. & U.)

NOW, THE SPARKS WILL FLY! Miss Rachel N. Thompson of Cambridge, holder of a first-class radio license, wants to go aboard a passenger vessel to ply her trade and she has launched a drive to this end. Shipping Board officials have promised to aid her. Photo shows her busy at her key. Has traveled around the world. (Key.)

NEW ENGLAND TO FETE HARDING NEXT WEEK

From Plymouth Pageant President Goes to Summer Home of Weeks at Lancaster, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding are to be the guests of honor at the performance of the Plymouth pageant celebrating the 20th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers on Plymouth Rock Monday night, "President's Day."

Immediately after that they are to go to the White Mountains of New Hampshire, where for two weeks they will be the guests of Secretary of War and Mrs. John W. Weeks at Lancaster.

In the presidential party at Plymouth will be Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge and Senator Lodge.

Secretary and Mrs. Weeks will accompany the presidential party from Washington to Plymouth on board the President's yacht Mayflower. They are due at that historic town early on the morning of August 1, and President Harding, after a number of trips, a formal luncheon and a review of a parade of troops, civic and industrial bodies, will deliver an address.

He will be the guest of honor at formal dinner that evening, after which the entire party will attend the pageant.

By the way, after the pageant Mr. Harding and his party, which will include a number of prominent statesmen, and diplomats, will board the Mayflower again, and proceed to the northern coast of New England next week.

The morning of August 2 they will "sail" for Portland, Me., where they will be the guests of the city.

In addition to the President and his party, the most important members of the party will be a number of foreign diplomats, and Representatives and others.

Representatives of Great Britain, Holland and France are among those who already are promised to attend.

The British and Netherlands ambassadors have been asked to make addresses and it is believed certain they will accept.

OTHER NOTABLES.

Among the other prominent visitors at the old New England town on President's Day will be Governor Cox, Mayor Isaac F. Foy, of Plymouth, England, Dr. A. J. Barnard, Queen Wilhelmina professor of Dutch Literature at Columbia University, and former Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

Dr. De Beaufort, attaché at the Netherlands Embassy at Washington, Attorney-General of Massachusetts J. Weston Allen, Frank Allen, President of the State Senate.

Other Theatres

MODERN and BEACON—Bert Lytell in "The Man Who" is the feature at the Modern and Beacon Theatres this week. It is a delightful story and will be remembered by Saturday night readers.

PARK THEATRE—Harry Carey is at his best in "Desperate Days." The story was written by Courtney Riley Cooper and appeared in the Red Book Magazine. George Stone and Helen Field, two clever screen kiddies, appear in sympathetic parts, while Ed Cooper and George Selmann have roles in keeping with their dramatic nature.

GORDON'S OLD SOUTH and OLYMPIA—Featuring with that marvelous suspense and fascination which make so vigorous and refreshing James Oliver Cavanaugh's stories of the Far North, "The Golden Shore," which was shown at Gordon's Old South and Gordon's Olympia Theatres last night, without doubt the best screen version yet made of any of the author's stories.

MOLLY SQ. OLYMPIA—Audience has been so fortunate to see a motion picture which was packed with so much suspense as "Nobility," the Roland West production for Associated First National Pictures, Inc., starring Jewel Carmen, which began a week's engagement at Gordon's Central Sq. Theatre last night.

GORDON'S CENTRAL SQ. THEATRE—Pola Negri has registered her second triumph on the American screen, and this time it is fully as great an achievement as her first. This wonderfully talented Polish artist, who conquered motion picture audiences in the United States with her magnificent portrayal of Madame Du Barry in "Passion," is now seen as the stirring Carmen in "Cry of Blood," which had its first showing at Gordon's Central Sq. Theatre last night.

GORDON'S STRAND—Everybody hates a crook—that is until they see Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount picture, "White and Unmarried," which was shown at Gordon's Uptown Corner Strand Theatre last night. Thomas Meighan, who made the crook role a classic in "The Sign of the Cross," again proves his ability in a similar characterization.

SOCIETY LEADERS SUED FOR $20,000 BY DECORATOR

Mrs. John J. Wysohn (left) and Mrs. Charles P. Hoffman, defendants in note suits.

Newport, R. I., July 26—Mrs. Charles Frederick Hoffman and Mrs. John J. Wysohn, local society leaders, have been made defendants in suits brought to recover payment of promissory notes covering the decoration of the clubhouse of the Pelham branch of the International Garden Club.

The two notes, involving $20,000, were brought by Miss Swift, Inc., decorators of No. 11 East Fifty-fifth street, New York, through leaders Shoreland and Thomas H. Hoffman, attorney, of Providence.

Notes of attachment were placed on Amoria Hall, summer residence of Mrs. Hoffman, and the Graystone, Mrs. Wysohn's summer estate, both in Newport. One of the suits, for $8,000, is brought against Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Wysohn jointly. The other is brought against Mrs. Hoffman alone. Both are returnable in the local court August 2.

MARY HAYNES IN SNAPPY REVUE HEADS BILL AT ORPHEUM

Her Exclusive Songs as Clerk in "Five and Ten" Are Riotously Received

It is true that the "snaps" become a trifle giddy as they approach ninety! Mary Haynes, the vivacious young woman, singing "exclusive" songs this week at R. P. Kettles Theatre, says it is to prove it relates her own experience as a clerk. In the "Five and Ten" one of Mary's songs concerns the ancient boy "with the pink tooth," who tried to vamp her. Another is about the floor walker. She even sings with the gentleman "unravelling his knitting."

Mary Haynes possesses that wonderful something called personality. She is as cool as ice cream. There is fun in her manner, her voice, her song. Her reception at the opening was so riotous that the young lady was obliged to confess that she had sung all the songs she knew. When did anybody hear the like of that, before? An unusual and delightful dance number is that of Miss Emma Hale and Richard Keane. Fessie and Johnson contribute a "breath of old time minstrelsy." Other acts are Drew and Walker. "At the time of the Roman actor, Harry Dell, in song of his own composition, and Miss La Berger, assisted by her posing dogs, in what used to be called "living pictures." News in pictures, topical of the day and Emma Fabrie, introduced for the screen, complete the bill of exciting merit.

MARK HOGUE AND AERIAL NOMADS AT REVERE

A pyrotechnic display of night airplane stunts by Lieutenant Mark C. Hogue and his aerial Nomads featuring Buster Brown and William Bowen, attracted crowds from far and near to the extensive boulevard at Revere. The Nomads, led by Hogue, and his co-workers staged a display of daring maneuvers and by means of rocket bombs and various ingenious fighting methods (the planes) made the eyes and unprepared thrills were proved a veritable magnet. In the exhibition is worth a long journey to witness and it is small wonder that it proved a veritable magnet. In the crowds who have for the past few seasons watched this daring aviator with keen interest, and enthusiasm.

Plays That Remain

THEATRE—Last night's performance at the Theatre began the thirteenth week of the engagement of George M. Cohan's Comedians in the musical comedy, "The O'Brien Girl." Only three more remain in which Bostonians may see this most popular of musical attractions before it moves on to Chicago to begin its regular theatrical season.

GLOBE THEATRE—"The Year of the Horse" of the Apollonians continues to draw capacity audiences in the Globe Theatre, where some of its delightful setting, this masterpiece is shown twice daily. With an augmented orchestra playing an especially arranged program the charm of the picture is enhanced.

DAVIES AND BIDDLE IN LONGWOOD'S LONGEST SET OF GAMES

By FRED LANE
Three California tennis stars worked their way into the third round of the twenty-third annual lawn tennis tournament at the Longwood country hotel today. They are in competition for the first leg on the Longwood trophy.

James Davies, Pacific coast intercollegiate champion, was the only California player failing to qualify. He lost to James Biddle of Los Angeles after playing the longest set of games ever recorded at Chestnut Hill.

Zsuzs Szilvassy, champion of Bulgaria and conqueror of many of our heat tennis players, failed to appear in the competition with his play.

D. N. Niles of Boston, who first defeated him, was no serious obstacle, falling before the bustling runner of the day, J. W. Foster, who met him in the second round and for a time baffled the nation's India. His opposition was more severe than that of Niles. Szilvassy was obliged to exert himself to win.

I. Kuznetsov, champion of the land of the rising sun, had little trouble beating Victor Hornmeyer, 6-2, 6-1.

The opening play was notable for the array of tennis men who competed in the first round. There were no serious upsets in the day's play, but many were surprised at the start of the tournament.

A. M. Chapman of California's best, a hard hitter, lost to J. W. Foster in the first set. The first set went to Foster by taking the second set 6-2.

Davis displayed a service over the net. The New Englander, however, was not so easily deceived. He won the third set and match, 6-2.

James Biddle was unable to enter in the second round with G. D. Dime because of the club's opposition. He will play in the third round.

Biddle's record in the first round was the match. The second set saw Biddle leading but one point for the set but Davies, by a brilliant rally, won the set, 10-8. Their match will be played at 10:30 serving as a preliminary to the singles and doubles scheduled for today.

Today's singles promises to attract a large gathering, owing to the class of the matches and to the fact that among them is the first round match between Davies and Biddle. Davies is the champion of the United States and Biddle is the champion of California.

The doubles matches for today are: C. D. Williams and J. K. Adams vs. J. W. Foster and G. D. Dime; J. W. Foster and G. D. Dime vs. J. W. Foster and G. D. Dime; J. W. Foster and G. D. Dime vs. J. W. Foster and G. D. Dime.

HERMAN AGAIN KING OF THE BANTAMS

New Orleans Boy Regains Title in Fast Battle With Joe Lynch

By JACK VEELOCK
New York, July 26.—Herman, sturdy little New Orleans bantamweight, has today established something of a record as a conqueror of champions.

In winning back the world's bantamweight title from Joe Lynch, Herman, the Crescent City boxer, today has won the title of champion of the world.

After being the bantam champion in Madison Square Garden last night, Herman today won the title of champion of the world.

PRATTES MAKE MEDBURY GIANTS WALK THE PLANK

Babe Adams in Box for the Corasins Holds the New York Safe

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 26.—The Pirates defeated the Giants in the first game of one of the most important series of the season, 8 to 3, yesterday. Babe Adams was in good form, and scored his third consecutive victory over New York without sustaining a defeat.

Snuffing Phil Douglas was his hard work but he gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, and Balle took his place. Bim had no terrors for the Buccos and they added two more to their total on a double and two singles in the last half of the seventh.

Casey Stalling was a feature. He made 11 putouts in the contest, most of them difficult ones.

The Pirates got the jump on Douglas in the first inning when they beat out a hit to second base and reached third on Casey's hit to right on the hit and run play.

Marvins gave Douglas a hard chance at first which scored Higley and Corasins. But Casey caught up on Marvins' long fly to right.

Casey's daring base running gave him another run in the fifth when he doubled to right, stole third and scored on Marvins' long fly to right.

The Pirates made it four to one in the sixth when Balle walked and the right fielder was out of the game and scored on Corasins' sacrifice fly while Casey caught at the right field fence.

It was "company night."

BUT WHEN I got home, I FOUND the Browns. HAD A sick baby. AND COULDN'T come. SO I CURSED "Oh, boy, WONT BEAT I have, SWELL EATS for two! BUT NO, she said, "YOU DON'T suppose, I'D WASTE all this food, JUST ON YOU?" AND SO I said, "LET'S PHONE the Smiths."

BUT "THEY HAD headaches. THEN WE tried the Joneses, AND THEY fell for it. AND WHEN Gary for four, WAS JUST about ready, THE PHONE bell tinkled, AND THE Brown baby was better, AND A minute later, THE SMITHS changed their mind. AND THE Missus fainted, "OH, WELL," I said, "THE MORE the merrier, WHAT'S THE difference? IF THERE isn't enough food, I'LL FEED the male. ON the cigarettes that satisfy, AND YOU women can talk, AND BETWEEN the two, WE'LL ALL be satisfied."

BRAVES COUNT ON THREE-GAME WIN OVER REDS

By NICK FLATLEY.

Cincinnati, O., July 25.—Another western invasion by the Braves open at home this afternoon, when Pat Moran's Reds were assigned to the battling Braves. The reds, like all other western teams except the Pirates, have been regular doormats for the Mitchem this season. The ease with which the Cards, Cubs and Reds have been knocked loose from ball games, accounts in great part for the lofty standing of the club.

The series contains only three games, which is rather unfortunate, but the three in which the athletes expect to answer should help them greatly in the next attack on Pittsburgh when it starts Friday.

The Braves stand to be another gathering of great crowds, as the fans in Cincinnati are sure to be rivaled over the league leaders as Boston subscribers are about the Braves.

Horace Ford, who is a major league pitcher, is a member of the team. He is a very good pitcher and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Bill Johnston on way east for tennis glory. Johnston is a very good tennis player and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

British tennis team off for Pittsburgh. The British tennis team is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Olding with Chief. Olding is a very good player and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Lexington's Next Golf. Lexington is a very good golfer and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Colt Notes. Colt is a very good player and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Baseball Summary. The baseball game was a very close one and is expected to be a big factor in the team's success.

Robert W. Chambers' Famous Story

A Spirited and Swiftly Moving Romance of Hearts and High Society, by the Greatest Living Master of Fiction

WHAT HAS HAPPENED.
Strela, a young girl and beautiful, but clever and good looking, has fallen desperately in love with a young man, who has had one of those unfortunate experiences, and since her advent into New York high society has been a success. Her admirers are many, but she has chosen the one who is the most worthy. Her admirers are many, but she has chosen the one who is the most worthy. Her admirers are many, but she has chosen the one who is the most worthy.

By Robert W. Chambers, whose novels have won him a national fame. The story is a masterpiece of fiction, and is a masterpiece of fiction. The story is a masterpiece of fiction, and is a masterpiece of fiction. The story is a masterpiece of fiction, and is a masterpiece of fiction.

A Little Story of Winning a Girl
By Irma Fisher Drenning
WHEN Peter Clark came out of the Weston library and carefully closed the heavy, barred door behind him, his face, pale under the sun, turned, was a stark look.

At the first glance of his face, Madame Weston, who sat at the end of the hall with her heart, came running toward him with a little cry of anxiety. "Peter! What is wrong? What did father say?"

She explained very calmly that as an amateur sportsman I was most interested in a dance, and that it was most desirable, but when it came to being a husband for that daughter, why, that was out of the question.

Madame Weston, who sat at the end of the hall with her heart, came running toward him with a little cry of anxiety. "Peter! What is wrong? What did father say?"

Is Strela Wise in Deciding to Marry for Money?

Strela Leeds having told Rix Quarren flatly that she feels she must marry a man who can give the luxuries she needs, finds her friend, Molly Wycherly, is decidedly against her. Molly would have her marry Rix even though they never had a cent because she is sure Strela really loves Rix and can't believe the lovely young widow loves money more than anything else.
